Introduction

I am pleased to introduce this Directory of Local Services, developed to support volunteers and volunteer groups assisting Asylum Seekers and Refugees across Warwickshire. This directory has been compiled in response to requests from local groups and aims to ensure that volunteers have the necessary resources and information to effectively support individuals and families arriving in our communities.

The directory serves as a central point of reference, providing guidance on accessing key services, healthcare, education, emergency support and financial assistance. By equipping volunteers with essential knowledge, we hope to strengthen the impact of their work and foster inclusive, welcoming communities throughout Warwickshire.

At the Equality and Inclusion Partnership (EQuIP), we are committed to promoting equality, diversity and inclusion across the county. As part of our work commissioned by the Warwickshire County Council's Migration Team, we play a vital role in volunteer development, particularly in relation to the various resettlement and asylum schemes in Warwickshire. We recognise the invaluable contributions of volunteers in supporting displaced individuals and we aim to enhance their efforts through guidance, collaboration and training opportunities.

This crucial aspect of our work is being led by Maryna Windsor, our Volunteer Development Officer, who is dedicated to supporting the capacity development of volunteer groups and individuals across Warwickshire. If you have any questions or would like to learn more about volunteer development opportunities, please contact Maryna at maryna@equipequality.org.uk

We hope that this directory will be a valuable resource for volunteers and organisations, helping to create a more inclusive and supportive environment for those seeking sanctuary in Warwickshire. Thank you for your dedication and commitment to making a difference.

Junaid Hussain

2.2 Accessing Medication

Most GP practices are not co-located with a pharmacy. If your GP wants you to take a particular medication, he or she will provide you with a prescription that you will need to take to your local pharmacy or chemist, who will provide you with the medication. The GP surgery will be able to advise you about where you should go to collect your medicine. You can also find information about the location of local pharmacies online at:

<http://www.nhs.uk/Service-Search/Pharmacy/LocationSearch/10>

There is normally a small charge for prescriptions, which you will be asked to pay when you collect your medication at the pharmacy. However, prescriptions are provided free of charge if you meet certain requirements. There is some variation in what prescriptions are provided depending on where in the UK you are living but, in general, your prescription will be free if you are:

- Age 60 or over
- Age 16 or under
- Age 16 to 18 and in full-time education
- Pregnant (or have had a baby in the previous 12 months)
- An inpatient receiving care in an NHS hospital

This list is not exhaustive; free prescriptions may also be available if you have certain specified medical conditions or a continuing physical disability. If you think this may apply to you, you should ask your GP who will be able to provide you with advice.

As well as providing you with any prescribed medication, a pharmacist can also give you free advice on treating minor health problems, such as colds and coughs. Some very common medications, such as painkillers and cough medicines, are available for sale over the counter. You will not need a prescription for these types of medication, but you will have to pay for them yourself.

2.3 Access to medical support in an emergency

If you or a family member has a serious accident or a sudden serious illness you should go to your nearest hospital with an Accident and Emergency department. Emergency treatment at Accident and Emergency services at NHS hospitals is free for everyone.

If it is an extreme emergency, call 999 or 112 and ask for an ambulance to transport you to a hospital. This service is free of charge but should only be used in an emergency. If you are able to do so, you may also make your own way to the Accident and Emergency department.

2.4 Walk-in or Urgent Treatment Centre

If you need treatment or advice that is not an emergency, but cannot wait until you next see your GP, you can obtain advice by calling 111. This is a service operated by the NHS. NHS 111 will be able to refer you to a doctor or to a local Urgent Treatment Centre or provide you other guidance, depending on your circumstances and needs.

In many parts of the country, the NHS also provides Walk-In or Urgent Treatment Centres where you can receive treatment for minor injuries such as cuts, sprains and small fractures, or receive urgent medical advice, without having made an appointment. These centres are usually open during daytime hours.

2.6 Mental Health Services

Mental health includes your emotional, psychological, and social wellbeing. Mental health issues range from the worries we all experience as part of everyday life to serious long-term conditions. We understand that you have been through a very traumatic time and been exposed to a huge mental stress. There are Mental Health Services available throughout the country that can help you if you are struggling. If you, or someone you love, need help this is best arranged through making an appointment with your GP.

If you are struggling but do not want to talk to a GP, there are a wide range of support organisations that offer helplines where you can talk in confidence to a trained advisor. These include:

- Lifeline 0808 808 8000 - (Textphone :18001 0808 808 8000)
- Samaritans on 116 123 to talk to a trained volunteer for free
- Lifeline - <https://www.lifelinehelpline.info>
- Mental health organisations - England - <https://www.mind.org.uk>

Further information on these and other support organisations and helpline services is available at <https://www.nhs.uk/mental-health/>

To find support in your local area, you can also use the Hub of Hope. You can access some services directly, without going to your GP for a referral first. Please see <https://hubofhope.co.uk>

2.7 Dentistry / dental care and services

You are entitled to NHS dental care to help keep your mouth, teeth and gums free of pain. If your tooth is painful, you should call NHS 111 for Urgent Dental Care Services.

You can search for local dentists and ask to register for an appointment. NHS dentistry is only free by exemption (for example, if you are aged under 18 or in receipt of low-income benefits). Costs for dental appointments depend on what treatment you are having. Search for a dentist at <https://www.nhs.uk/nhs-services/dentists/how-to-find-an-nhs-dentist/> and find a breakdown of costs here.

3.0 Emergency Services

3.1 Police

The police are there to help and assist you as part of their role to keep people safe and uphold the law. You should not be afraid to approach them if you are the victim of a crime, see a crime happening, or for general assistance; for example, if you are lost.

To report a crime, you should call the following telephone numbers:

- 999 – This is the number to call in an emergency. For example, if you are the victim of an assault or see a crime taking place. Ask for the ‘police’ when you get through. This is also the number to call if you need an ambulance or if there is a fire.
- 112 - is a common emergency telephone number that can be dialled free of charge from most mobile telephones, and in some countries, fixed telephones in order to reach emergency services - ambulance, fire and rescue, police.
- 101 – This is the number to call for less urgent situations. For example, if your property has been damaged.

3.2 Fire

If you need to report a fire you should call 999.

3.3 Ambulance

You can call an ambulance by using 999 or 112. A trained call handler will ask questions to assess the situation and determine the appropriate response.

If you are deaf, hard of hearing or speech-impaired you can contact us by texting from your mobile. This facility is available in any type of emergency and is for people who can't use the standard 999 voice or the RNID's text relay services.

4.0 Getting used to life in the UK

4.1 Opening a Bank Account

1. Make sure you have an email address set up in your name and a valid phone number, to help the bank or building society communicate with you.

2. Collect all your identification and visa documents.

To open a bank or building society account in the UK, you also need to show proof of ID. The quickest way to prove identification is likely to be with your passport and/or your Biometric Residence Permit (issued to you by the UK Government).

3. Apply for an account either in person at a bank or building society branch (you may need to make an appointment), over the phone, online or via a bank's mobile app. If going into a branch, you should take all relevant identification documents with you.

Note: Some UK banks and building societies may ask for proof of address, though this is not required by law to open a bank account.

4.2 Documents required for opening a Bank Account

Proof of identity – in order of most widely accepted	Proof of address – in order of most widely accepted
✓ Current Passport	✓ Council tax bill
✓ Biometric Residency Permit (BRP)	✓ Tenancy agreement (including from the Council)
✓ Current full (or provisional) UK driving license	✓ Utility bill (Electricity, Gas or water bill) from the last 3 – 4 months
✓ UK Home Office travel document	✓ Current EU/EEA driver's license (or provisional)
✓ UK Home Office application registration card	✓ HMRC Tax Notification
✓ UK Home Office immigration status with right to reside	✓ Department for Work and Pensions letter confirming right to benefits
✓ Notification of other governmental/local authority grant

If you don't have all the identification documents, take all the information you have with you to the bank or building society. Banks and building societies are encouraged to consider alternative ways to identify and verify their customers, and the Government has been working closely with the sector to support access for incoming asylum seekers and refugees.

6.0 Education Services

6.1 Applying for a School Place in England

If you live in England, you are required to ensure that any of your children aged 5 but under 16 receive a full-time education.

Children will normally begin to attend school full-time in September after their fourth birthday, but you have the option of taking up a place part-time until the start of the term immediately after the child turns 5. Alternatively, you can keep your child at home or in nursery while they are 4 and apply for your child to start school from the start of the term following their 5th birthday – although your choice of school may be more limited. It is likely, at least in your first year in England, that you will need to apply for ‘in-year’ admissions.

Applications outside the normal admissions timeframe – ‘in-year’ admissions.

An in-year admission is:

- an application for reception 2 or year 7 after the start of the school year; or
- an application for any other year group at any time.

Although some schools will have places available throughout the year, your choice of school will likely be limited because some of the most popular schools will be full when you apply.

You can obtain information on which schools have places still available from Warwickshire County Council within which the schools are located:

<https://www.warwickshire.gov.uk/admissions>
